As soon as we receive requirements for Summer Interns from all Agency offices, we will forward these requirements to the field recruiters to guide them in recruiting for the 1977 Summer Intern Program.

are attending the Midwest College Placement Conference at the Marc Plaza Hotel, Milwaukee, during the period 7-10 September. This is the largest of the five regional conferences and is populated by firms of the industrial Midwest and the auto industry at Detroit, as well as college representatives from the Big Ten Universities and other major colleges throughout the region. Among issues being explored is how the placement officers can render meaningful and needed services with limited staffs and budgets at a time when recruiting is again becoming competitive.

3. Recruitment Advertising: The Account Executive from the Gaynor & Ducas Advertising firm who handles the CIA account, Mrs. Linda Willig, phoned us to advise that she is leaving the firm to go into radio advertising. She expressed her genuine regret in leaving and stated that she especially enjoyed working with the CIA. She was particularly helpful to us in getting our minority advertising campaign off the ground several years ago. We have prepared a letter of appreciation for her. The CIA account is relatively small but, we understand, is considered prestigious for a firm to handle.

6. Blood Donors: Blood Donor Day was not as successful as we had hoped. Nevertheless, considering that it again followed a holiday, we consider it to have been productive as evidenced by the fact that we had 174 donors.
